

Introduction

Jesus said, “I didn’t come to call the righteous, but sinners (Mark 2:17)”. His whole life could be summarized as being, “on mission” as he was always spending time with those everyone else had rejected or detested. One example of this was when Jesus called a despised tax collector named Levi, to follow him. Later, Jesus went to a party hosted by Levi and his friends, who also happened to be, “tax collectors and sinners”. Jesus’ action had completely enraged the religious people.

Observation/Interpretation

- What did tax collectors do during this time and why did they have such a bad reputation?
- What did the Pharisees objections reveal about their understanding of the gospel and salvation?
- What does it mean that Jesus “didn’t come to call the righteous, but sinners” (Mark 2:17)?

Application

- Are there people which you feel self-righteousness toward, and typically find yourself rejecting or even detesting them? Who are the tax collectors in your life?
- What does it look like for you to walk in repentance?
- Take a moment as a group and confess your sins of self-righteousness regarding religious thinking and actions. Then pray as a group that God would transform you into the image of his “missionary Son”.

Memory Verse

Mark 2:17 I came not to call the righteous, but sinners.

Community Group Discussion

- Read the passage together out loud.
- Involve your group by asking/answering the study questions, taking the time to share.
- Ask for prayer requests and be sure to pray together.

Family Discussion

- Have your child/children read the passage aloud, if old enough otherwise you read it aloud.
- Involve them by asking questions.
- Ask for prayer requests and invite them to pray together as a family.

A great way to use of these notes is to start/join a Community Group

These notes can be used for personal bible study, yet, another way would be to invite some people together. We call these intentional gatherings, 'Community Groups'.

What is a Community Group?

Community Groups are small gatherings of believers (non-believers welcomed too!) that meet regularly for accountability, friendship, study of the Bible and prayer. Community Groups are an essential part of the mission of Calvary SLO Church as they are a place where we wrestle with the truths of the Bible and encourage one another toward the life God intends. Each community group is unique and molded by the people who attend it. Most community groups gather weekly and involve food, dialog, prayer, discussion for applying the Bible to practical living, and loving service to one-another. They're meant to be an organic and authentic expression of the church, actively living like the body of Jesus.

Why should I join/start a Community Group?

God is a Trinitarian God who is revealed as one in three persons: Father, Son and Spirit. We've been made to image God, which means we're designed for community & friendship. We often suffer when we're not in community, due to the brokenness of life, complexity of this world and the temptation to isolate ourselves. We encourage you to gather with a small group of friends, family or roommates on a weekly basis and use these discussion notes to press deeper into God.

How do I join the Calvary SLO Community Group eco-system?

We're enthusiastic about all forms of biblical community, however there are definite benefits to joining with the Calvary SLO Community Group (CG) eco-system. In short, the benefits are:

- Training: We have trainings intent on equipping leaders.
- Support: Each CG leader is assigned a coach to provide assistance and ongoing support.
- Visibility: CG's are promoted via the bulletin, website & given access to The City (our online social network).

To join all you have to do is sign up for the next upcoming training! Info: pastor James: james@calvaryslo.com.
